

“Ballet Austin could not be more confident in its choice of Harlequin dance floors!”

“Located in an epicenter of excitement where a unique assortment of dance genres and live music abound, Ballet Austin offers an inviting place for the community to learn dance, and continually places professional dancers in companies around the world. With studios that house the Ballet Austin Academy as well as various forms of dance from hip hop, Broadway movement, jazz and hula, to yoga, fitness and a Pilates Center, we knew we needed durable, versatile flooring. To ensure our diverse, musically oriented community of aspiring dancers had flooring that fully supported not only their dreams but also their feet, we selected Harlequin’s Cascade™ and Standfast™, accompanied by its Activity® and WoodSpring™ sub-floors, for our seven studios and 300-seat Studio Theater.

We could not have been more confident in our choice as Harlequin has more than met our flooring needs. Cascade, with its extreme resistance to wear and tear, along with its silky, soft surface, has no hint of being slippery and is arguably the best flooring for ballet and pointe work. Additionally, with Standfast’s hardwearing, slip-resistant surface our dancers have the most perfect surface for a variety of dance styles. We were also touched by the company’s genuine interest in our performing arts center. We look forward to continuing our longstanding relationship with Harlequin - and showing off the company’s beautiful floors - for years to come!”
